Ben was sad last week. Write the story in not less than 80 words with the help of the pictures below.

Ben learned a lesson

Last week, Ben still played computer games at three o'clock at night.
His mum said, 'Ben, it's time to go to bed. You will have an English test tomorrow.' However, he didn't listen to her. Moreover, he didn't do his homework and his bedroom was immensely messy. He didn't pack his school bag.

The next day, Ben felt greatly tired and sleepy. Then he fell asleep in the English test. Miss Li saw that and she tried to wake him up. However, he was still asleep so Miss Li gave up waking him up.

After a few days, Ben got back his English test paper and he got zero marks in the English test. ‘Oh, no! I only get zero marks in the English test! My mum will punish me!’ said Ben. He was afraid that his mum would punish him. He was deeply miserable.

After that day, he promised he would be hard-working and he would play less computer games so that he would get better results in English test or exam.
